

“CHATGPT TOKYO NIGHTS PROMPTS BY SAJAWAL CREATES”

Prompt No. 1: (Main Prompt)

A cinematic street portrait of a young man (using the same face as a reference image) standing still in a busy urban crowd, captured with dynamic motion blur swirling all around him from passing pedestrians. He has short, slightly messy natural hair and a calm, introspective expression, looking directly at the camera with quiet confidence. He wears a soft heather-grey crewneck sweater and textured olive-brown chinos, minimal accessories — just a simple wristwatch.

The background is a busy city street filled with people in motion, their forms softly streaking and blurring to create a dreamy long-exposure effect, blurred neon signage and storefront lights adding subtle warm and cool color accents in the distance. Natural soft daylight falls evenly across his face, muted overcast tones balanced with warm undertones on his skin.

Shallow depth of field, tack-sharp focus locked precisely on his face and eyes, the crowd and background rendered in smooth painterly motion blur while he remains crystal clear and static, creating strong visual separation between subject and chaos. Ultra-realistic skin texture with visible pores, natural tone variation, light natural stubble, no smoothing, no plastic or waxy look. Realistic fabric texture on the sweater knit and chino weave, natural hair strand detail.

Muted film-inspired color palette, subtle authentic film grain, true-to-life color reproduction, physically accurate lighting and shadow direction. Emotional and artistic mood, cinematic street photography style, high-definition fine detail throughout, photorealistic, hyperrealistic, shot on 35mm lens at f/1.8, RAW photo quality, 8K resolution, no CGI, no illustration, no digital art, no over-processing, looks like an unedited real photograph."
