

“CHATGPT REAL SHADOW PROMPTS BY SAJAWAL CREATES”

FOR BOYS:

PROMPT NO: 01

MAN — Relaxed Standing Pose, Genuine Laugh / Lonely-Upset Hidden Shadow (Royal Blue Background)

Prompt:

"Reference photo attached — use the exact same face, identical facial features, skin tone, hairstyle, body proportions, and complete identity preserved exactly as shown, no alterations to face or structure whatsoever. A high-resolution vertical ultra-realistic photograph, visual irony concept, minimalist composition with vast negative space.

Main subject: a man standing relaxed, genuinely laughing with his head tilted slightly back, one hand resting casually in his trouser pocket, the other hand loosely holding a folded jacket over his shoulder, natural weight resting on one leg, shoulders open and light as if truly carefree in this moment. Wearing a fitted crew-neck sweater, straight-cut trousers, clean leather loafers, realistic fabric texture with natural creases, knit detailing, and authentic tailoring. Neat natural hairstyle, warm genuine expression with visible laugh lines, natural candid body language, a subtle gust of wind lightly moving his hair and sweater hem for a touch of dynamic realism.

Background: flat, clean, solid deep royal-blue studio backdrop (rich sapphire-navy tone) with a subtle matte texture, seamlessly extending into the floor with no visible horizon line. The composition is zoomed out to leave a massive amount of empty negative space around the subject, the deep saturated blue tone contrasting dramatically with the subject's natural skin tone and clothing for a striking, premium editorial look.

Key concept — shadow as hidden truth: only ONE continuous shadow exists in the entire image — it originates directly from the subject's shoes, exactly where his feet meet the floor, stretches outward across the floor toward the wall, then rises naturally onto the wall and takes the exact same human silhouette and posture as the man himself — but with a completely opposite emotional state. The wall shadow shows him sitting hunched with his head resting in both hands, elbows on knees, shoulders curled inward — a posture of quiet exhaustion and loneliness, completely different from his relaxed laughing stance, as if the shadow reveals the tiredness and isolation he hides behind his smile. The shadow must remain visibly connected to the subject's feet at all times — no disconnected or floating shadow. The shadow is rendered as a realistic dark human silhouette (not a monster, not a creature, not stylized or cartoonish) — simply his own true self, worn out and alone, hidden behind his laughter. There must be no separate shadow beneath the feet, no duplicate shadow, no floating shadow, and no independent shadow anywhere else. The ONLY shadow in the image is this single continuous shadow originating from the subject's feet and transforming into his own hunched, lonely silhouette on the wall.

Lighting: soft, shadowless ambient flat light on the subject himself, revealing realistic skin texture, natural tonal variation, visible pores, light natural stubble, no smoothing, no plastic look, no self-shadow, a subtle warm highlight catching his eyes and shoe tips for added realism. A separate hard directional spotlight creates only the crisp, sharply defined dark human-shaped shadow on the wall behind him, with a faint soft glow around the spotlight's edge for cinematic depth. Rich, deep, jewel-toned cinematic color grading that makes the royal-blue background feel luxurious yet quietly melancholic, physically accurate light behavior on all materials.

MAN — Sitting Casually on a Stool, Genuine Smile / Crying Hidden Shadow (Royal Red Background)

Prompt:

"Reference photo attached — use the exact same face, identical facial features, skin tone, hairstyle, body proportions, and complete identity preserved exactly as shown, no alterations to face or structure whatsoever. A high-resolution vertical ultra-realistic photograph, visual irony concept, minimalist composition with vast negative space.

Main subject: a man sitting casually on a tall wooden stool, one leg planted on the ground and the other resting on the stool's footrest, genuinely smiling with a relaxed, easy expression, one hand resting lightly on his knee, the other hand casually holding a coffee cup, head tilted slightly with warmth and contentment. Wearing a soft flannel shirt with sleeves rolled up to the forearm, fitted dark jeans, worn leather boots, realistic fabric texture with natural creases, stitching detail, and authentic wear. Neat natural hairstyle, warm genuine expression with soft smile lines, natural candid seated body language, a subtle gust of wind lightly moving his shirt collar for a touch of dynamic realism.

Background: flat, clean, solid deep royal-red studio backdrop (rich burgundy-crimson tone) with a subtle matte texture, seamlessly extending into the floor with no visible horizon line. The composition is zoomed out to leave a massive amount of empty negative space around the subject, the deep saturated red tone contrasting dramatically with the subject's natural skin tone and clothing for a striking, premium editorial look.

Key concept — shadow as hidden truth: only ONE continuous shadow exists in the entire image — it originates directly from the subject's boots, exactly where his feet meet the floor, stretches outward across the floor toward the wall, then rises naturally onto the wall and takes the exact same human silhouette and posture as the man himself — but with a completely opposite emotional state. The wall shadow shows him sitting in the same seated position, but with his head bowed low into both hands, shoulders shaking slightly as if quietly crying, elbows pressed onto his knees — a posture of hidden grief and heaviness, completely different from his smiling, relaxed pose, as if the shadow reveals the sorrow he conceals behind his easy smile. The shadow must remain visibly connected to the subject's feet at all times — no disconnected or floating shadow. The shadow is rendered as a realistic dark human silhouette (not a monster, not a creature, not stylized or cartoonish) — simply his own true self, quietly breaking down, hidden behind his calm smile. There must be no separate shadow beneath the feet, no duplicate shadow, no floating shadow, and no independent shadow anywhere else. The ONLY shadow in the image is this single continuous shadow originating from the subject's feet and transforming into his own grieving silhouette on the wall.

Lighting: soft, shadowless ambient flat light on the subject himself, revealing realistic skin texture, natural tonal variation, visible pores, light natural stubble, no smoothing, no plastic look, no self-shadow, a subtle warm highlight catching his eyes, coffee cup, and boot tips for added realism. A separate hard directional spotlight creates only the crisp, sharply defined dark human-shaped shadow on the wall behind him, with a faint soft glow around the spotlight's edge for cinematic depth. Rich, deep, jewel-toned cinematic color grading that makes the royal-red background feel warm yet quietly heavy with emotion, physically accurate light behavior on all materials.

PROMPT NO: 03

BOY — Playful Happy Expression / Lonely Longing Hidden Shadow (Royal Emerald-Green Background)

Prompt:

"Reference photo attached — use the exact same face, identical facial features, skin tone, hairstyle, body proportions, and complete identity preserved exactly as shown, no alterations to face or structure whatsoever. A high-resolution vertical ultra-realistic photograph, visual irony concept, minimalist composition with vast negative space.

Main subject: a young boy standing playfully, genuinely grinning with bright, mischievous eyes, one hand casually tossing a small ball up in the air, the other hand tucked into his hoodie pocket, natural relaxed stance with a slight bounce in his posture, full of youthful energy and carefree happiness. Wearing a casual zip-up hoodie over a graphic t-shirt, comfortable joggers, clean sneakers, realistic fabric texture with natural creases and authentic stitching detail. Tousled natural hairstyle, warm genuine expression with a wide playful smile, natural candid body language, a subtle gust of wind lightly moving his hoodie strings and hair for dynamic realism.

Background: flat, clean, solid deep royal emerald-green studio backdrop (rich forest-emerald tone) with a subtle matte texture, seamlessly extending into the floor with no visible horizon line. The composition is zoomed out to leave a massive amount of empty negative space around the subject, the deep saturated emerald tone contrasting dramatically with the subject's natural skin tone and clothing for a striking, premium editorial look.

Key concept — shadow as hidden truth: only ONE continuous shadow exists in the entire image — it originates directly from the subject's sneakers, exactly where his feet meet the floor, stretches outward across the floor toward the wall, then rises naturally onto the wall and takes the exact same human silhouette and posture as the boy himself — but with a completely opposite emotional state. The wall shadow shows him sitting alone with his knees pulled up to his chest, arms wrapped around his legs, head resting sideways on his knees, gazing off into the distance with a quiet, lonely, longing expression — small, still, and withdrawn, completely different from his playful bouncing stance, as if the shadow reveals a hidden loneliness he masks with his cheerful energy. The shadow must remain visibly connected to the subject's feet at all times — no disconnected or floating shadow. The shadow is rendered as a realistic dark human silhouette (not a creature, not stylized or cartoonish) — simply his own true self, quiet and alone, hidden behind his playful smile. There must be no separate shadow beneath the feet, no duplicate shadow, no floating shadow, and no independent shadow anywhere else. The ONLY shadow in the image is this single continuous shadow originating from the subject's feet and transforming into his own lonely, seated silhouette on the wall.

Lighting: soft, shadowless ambient flat light on the subject himself, revealing realistic skin texture, natural tonal variation, visible pores, no smoothing, no plastic look, no self-shadow, a subtle warm highlight catching his eyes and sneaker tips for added realism. A separate hard directional spotlight creates only the crisp, sharply defined dark human-shaped shadow on the wall behind him, with a faint soft glow around the spotlight's edge for cinematic depth. Rich, deep, jewel-toned cinematic color grading that makes the royal emerald-green background feel vibrant yet quietly bittersweet, physically accurate light behavior on all materials.

WOMAN — Sitting Alone on Floor, Sad Withdrawn Pose / Joyful Jumping Shadow (Royal Blue Background)

Prompt:

"Reference photo attached — use the exact same face, identical facial features, skin tone, hairstyle, body proportions, and complete identity preserved exactly as shown, no alterations to face or structure whatsoever. A high-resolution vertical ultra-realistic photograph, visual irony concept, minimalist composition with vast negative space.

Main subject: a woman sitting on the floor with her knees drawn up close to her chest, arms loosely resting around her legs, head tilted slightly downward, a soft sad expression with tired, heavy eyes, quiet stillness in her posture. Wearing a relaxed oversized sweater, soft joggers, cozy socks, realistic fabric texture with natural creases and soft knit detail. Natural loose hairstyle falling around her face, subdued natural expression, withdrawn quiet body language, a subtle soft ambient breeze lightly moving a few hair strands for dynamic realism.

Background: flat, clean, solid deep royal-blue studio backdrop (rich sapphire-navy tone) with a subtle matte texture, seamlessly extending into the floor with no visible horizon line. The composition is zoomed out to leave a massive amount of empty negative space around the subject, the deep saturated blue tone contrasting dramatically with the subject's natural skin tone and clothing for a striking, premium editorial look.

Key concept — shadow as hidden truth: only ONE continuous shadow exists in the entire image — it originates directly from the subject, exactly where her body meets the floor, stretches outward across the floor toward the wall, then rises naturally onto the wall and takes the exact same human silhouette but with a completely opposite emotional state. The wall shadow shows her standing tall and mid-jump, arms thrown wide open in celebration, head tilted back with visible pure joy in her outline, hair flying upward with the motion — energetic, free, and bursting with happiness, completely different from her quiet, curled-up stance, as if the shadow reveals the joyful spirit still alive inside her despite the sadness she's showing. The shadow must remain visibly connected to the subject at all times — no disconnected or floating shadow. The shadow is rendered as a realistic dark human silhouette (not a creature, not stylized or cartoonish) — simply her own true self, joyful and alive, hidden beneath her quiet sorrow. There must be no separate shadow, no duplicate shadow, no floating shadow, and no independent shadow anywhere else. The ONLY shadow in the image is this single continuous shadow originating from the subject and transforming into her own joyful jumping silhouette on the wall.

Lighting: soft, shadowless ambient flat light on the subject herself, revealing realistic skin texture, natural tonal variation, visible pores, no smoothing, no plastic look, no self-shadow, a subtle warm highlight catching her eyes and sock-covered feet for added realism. A separate hard directional spotlight creates only the crisp, sharply defined dark human-shaped shadow on the wall behind her, with a faint soft glow around the spotlight's edge for cinematic depth. Rich, deep, jewel-toned cinematic color grading that makes the royal-blue background feel calm yet quietly hopeful, physically accurate light behavior on all materials.

WOMAN — Standing Quietly, Sad Distant Expression / Joyful Dancing Shadow (Royal Purple Background)

Prompt:

"Reference photo attached — use the exact same face, identical facial features, skin tone, hairstyle, body proportions, and complete identity preserved exactly as shown, no alterations to face or structure whatsoever. A high-resolution vertical ultra-realistic photograph, visual irony concept, minimalist composition with vast negative space.

The wall shadow shows her mid-twirl, arms gracefully raised above her head, hair flowing outward, one leg lifted lightly off the ground in a joyful dance pose — free, light, and radiantly happy, completely different from her quiet, subdued stance, as if the shadow reveals the buried joy she isn't showing on the outside. The shadow must remain visibly connected to the subject's feet at all times — no disconnected or floating shadow. The shadow is rendered as a realistic dark human silhouette (not a creature, not stylized or cartoonish) — simply her own true self, joyful and free, hidden beneath her quiet sadness. WOMAN — Walking Slowly, Sad Reflective Expression / Joyful Twirling-with-Umbrella Shadow (Royal Gold Background)

Prompt:

"Reference photo attached — use the exact same face, identical facial features, skin tone, hairstyle, body proportions, and complete identity preserved exactly as shown, no alterations to face or structure whatsoever. A high-resolution vertical ultra-realistic photograph, visual irony concept, minimalist composition with vast negative space.

Main subject: a woman walking slowly, one arm wrapped gently around herself, the other hand loosely holding the strap of a small bag, gaze lowered with a soft, sad, reflective expression, slow tired footsteps, natural weight settled low. Wearing a long flowing trench coat over a simple dress, ankle boots, realistic fabric texture with natural creases and authentic coat structure. Natural hairstyle slightly windswept, subdued natural expression, slow contemplative body language, a subtle gust of wind lightly moving her coat hem and hair for dynamic realism.

Background: flat, clean, solid deep royal-gold studio backdrop (rich mustard-amber tone) with a subtle matte texture, seamlessly extending into the floor with no visible horizon line. The wall shadow shows her spinning playfully with an open umbrella twirling above her head, coat flaring outward with the motion, head tilted back in visible laughter — carefree, light, and radiantly happy, completely different from her slow, sad walking stance, as if the shadow reveals a joyful memory or hidden inner spirit she carries despite her current sorrow. The shadow must remain visibly connected to the subject's feet at all times — no disconnected or floating shadow. The shadow is rendered as a realistic dark human silhouette (not a creature, not stylized or cartoonish) — simply her own true self, joyful and light, hidden beneath her quiet sadness. There must be no separate shadow beneath the feet, no duplicate shadow, no floating shadow, and no independent shadow anywhere else.
