

“CHATGPT COFFEE MOMENT PROMPTS BY SAJAWAL CREATES”

FOR GIRLS:

PROMPT:

Use the provided reference as the strict identity and appearance reference for the same adult Caucasian woman. Preserve her recognizable facial identity, natural facial structure, apparent age, hairstyle, natural body shape and proportions, realistic skin texture, and ordinary human imperfections. She is wearing a premium-quality black short-sleeve cotton polo shirt with a clean, naturally structured collar, substantial refined fabric texture, relaxed regular fit, simple understated buttons, and a completely unbranded appearance.

She sits comfortably at a wooden table inside a modern coffee shop after settling in for a coffee break, facing the camera with a genuine happy smile and a naturally cheerful expression. The photograph feels like a genuine everyday moment casually captured by another person using the main camera of a modern smartphone, with her naturally reacting to being photographed rather than deliberately posing for a professional portrait. Her posture is relaxed and naturally asymmetrical within the close framing, with relaxed shoulders, a subtle natural turn of the torso toward the camera, casually resting arms, and a very slight natural head tilt.

The wooden tabletop is clearly visible in the lower foreground while she remains close and prominent in the frame. A real ceramic cappuccino cup sits naturally on the table in front of her with a simple saucer underneath. The cappuccino is freshly made and completely full, with a smooth, undisturbed foam surface and faint visible steam, as though it has just been served. The wooden surface shows subtle natural grain and realistic everyday imperfections, making the table and coffee feel like genuine parts of the moment rather than arranged props.

Warm late-afternoon sunlight enters through the café window, creating soft directional illumination across her face and upper body, subtle highlights on the forehead and lips, and gentle shadow falloff beneath the jaw and around the ears. Her face retains fine visible pores, subtle facial lines, natural tonal variation, and a very fine natural sheen across the forehead, temples, cheeks, neck, and upper chest.

The cozy coffee shop forms the middle-ground and background, with warm wooden furniture, greenery, large windows, and a few naturally present customers casually engaged in their own conversations or coffee moments. These background customers remain softly rendered and naturally integrated into the environment, while the tabletop and cappuccino stay recognizable in the foreground. The deeper café environment gradually recedes into a soft, natural background blur.

The camera relationship remains close and intimate, with her occupying most of the vertical frame while leaving enough lower-frame space for her arms, the wooden tabletop, and the cappuccino to remain clearly visible. Her face is the strongest visual focus, followed naturally by her upper body and the coffee cup. The perspective feels like a real person sitting or standing close by and casually taking an everyday photo with a modern smartphone main camera at eye level, producing natural smartphone perspective, realistic depth, natural colors, and the spontaneous feeling of an ordinary moment being photographed.

The final image is presented as a clean finished photograph filling the entire frame, with the photographic scene itself as the only visible content.

Visual reinforcement: photorealistic everyday smartphone photograph, adult Caucasian woman, genuine happy smile, premium black polo shirt, close eye-level perspective, wooden café table with a full cappuccino, warm late-afternoon window light, living skin texture, cozy coffee shop atmosphere with fellow customers.

FOR BOYS:

PROMPT:

Use the provided reference as the strict identity and appearance reference for the same adult Caucasian man. Preserve his recognizable facial identity, natural facial structure, apparent age, hairstyle, and any facial hair, natural body shape and proportions, realistic skin texture, and ordinary human imperfections. He is wearing a premium-quality black short-sleeve cotton polo shirt with a clean, naturally structured collar, substantial refined fabric texture, relaxed regular fit, simple understated buttons, and a completely unbranded appearance.

He sits comfortably at a wooden table inside a modern coffee shop after settling in for a coffee break, facing the camera with a genuine happy smile and a naturally cheerful expression. The photograph feels like a genuine everyday moment casually captured by another person using the main camera of a modern smartphone, with the man naturally reacting to being photographed rather than deliberately posing for a professional portrait. His posture is relaxed and naturally asymmetrical within the close framing, with relaxed shoulders, a subtle natural turn of the torso toward the camera, casually resting arms, and a very slight natural head tilt.

The wooden tabletop is clearly visible in the lower foreground while the man remains close and prominent in the frame. A real ceramic cappuccino cup sits naturally on the table in front of him with a simple saucer underneath. The cappuccino is freshly made and completely full, with a smooth, undisturbed foam surface and faint visible steam, as though it has just been served. The wooden surface shows subtle natural grain and realistic everyday imperfections, making the table and coffee feel like genuine parts of the moment rather than arranged props.

Warm late-afternoon sunlight enters through the café window, creating soft directional illumination across his face and upper body, subtle highlights on the forehead and lips, and gentle shadow falloff beneath the jaw and around the ears. His face retains fine visible pores, subtle facial lines, natural tonal variation, and a very fine natural sheen across the forehead, temples, cheeks, neck, and upper chest. His facial hair, if present, remains clearly defined.

The cozy coffee shop forms the middle-ground and background, with warm wooden furniture, greenery, large windows, and a few naturally present customers casually engaged in their own conversations or coffee moments. These background customers remain softly rendered and naturally integrated into the environment, while the tabletop and cappuccino stay recognizable in the foreground. The deeper café environment gradually recedes into a soft, natural background blur.

The camera relationship remains close and intimate, with the man occupying most of the vertical frame while leaving enough lower-frame space for his arms, the wooden tabletop, and the cappuccino to remain clearly visible. His face is the strongest visual focus, followed naturally by his upper body and the coffee cup. The perspective feels like a real person sitting or standing close by and casually taking an everyday photo with a modern smartphone main camera at eye level, producing natural smartphone perspective, realistic depth, natural colors, and the spontaneous feeling of an ordinary moment being photographed.

The final image is presented as a clean finished photograph filling the entire frame, with the photographic scene itself as the only visible content.

Visual reinforcement: photorealistic everyday smartphone photograph, adult Caucasian man, genuine happy smile, premium black polo shirt, close eye-level perspective, wooden café table with a full cappuccino, warm late-afternoon window light, living skin texture, cozy coffee shop atmosphere with fellow customers.